RUPPERT AND RUTH
PREPARE FOR BATTLE

—(Continued)—
New York. — These two boom champions, Babe Ruth and Colonel Jack Ruppert are busy preparing for their fight for another battle of the mountain peak.

At St. Petersburg in 1920 the doubly-crowned star of the Yankees finally secured his prize badge and victoriously forced him to sign a contract for two years at $800,000 per year.

Now it is time for another one. The famous St. Petersburg document was run its course, and the Colonel and the Babe have started fighting training for the forthcoming fray. Each is reported to have the patches his most trustworthy contacts to scoop around the rival camp and find out what is going on in the other's mind.

Yankees headquarters recently said that what amounts to the opening job at the world's highest salaried athlete, who is occupied right now with a series of movie spots in Hollywood.

We don't intend to hold any preliminary conference with the Babe, said Ed Barrett, secretary of the club. When the contracts are sent out in January, he will get his along with the rest of them. Then, if it doesn't suit him, there will be plenty of time for conference.

As the Babe, never has been known, over a long span of years to his own country that was popped at him through the mails, it is a foregone conclusion there will be some high powered conference in view of the Babe's advancing years. It is felt certain the owner of the Yankees will try to hold his star in a sure year. One tract or take a substantial slice of his present salary or both.

On the other hand, Ruth refuses to recant this rumor that he is getting off. All he knows is that he felt great last season, the last of his career for the home run leadership and was the American League's second best batter. He talks about retiring in two years to become a manager; but he might change his mind.

ATHLETES MOURN DEATH OF "BONESTETTER" REESE

Youngstown, Ohio. — The sports world mourns the death of John D. "Bonestetter" Reese, one time steel worker, whose deft fingers and uncanny touch denied the injuries of many famous athletes and created scores of world-famous.

Reese, aged 76, died here recently. International fame was won by the "bonestetter," a modest man, who found real pleasure in aiding suffering humanity. For more than 40 years he employed his power in healing the rich and the poor, the mighty and the lowly. Thousands testified to the skill in his fingers. Lloyd George, visiting America after the World War, shook hands so many times that his right hand was twisted out of shape. Doctors, six months of rest and massaging, would be needed to restore the cramped muscles. But Reese shook hands with the statesman, carried a little pressure, disengaged their hands with a wrench and Lloyd

George's hand was strong again. Hardly a baseball star in the last three decades did not owe his endurance to strength given by the "bonestetter." Ty Cobb, Hank Wagner, Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson were among the parade of stars who brought their aches, aches, sprained ligaments and pulled muscles to him for cure.

Followers of sport still remember the day Wagner, the great shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was carried from the field after something had snapped in his back. Wagner carried, then, at his weight, seemed dead. But he went to Reese. The "bonestetter" set his fingers in Wagner's back. The great shortstop awakened and found he, but in a few days he was back in the game.

Battling Nelson and Gene Tunney were among the prize fighters who were treated by Reese.

Reese was born in Wales, on May 5, 1855, and was left an orphan in his teens. In 1877, he departed for America to work in the steel mills.

As he had been treated by the noted bonestoppers of his native land, but he did not disclose he was a natural master of orthopedic surgery until he came to this city.

Then, one day in Youngstown, a man fell from a ladder on to his back. Young Reese ran his fingers up and down the man's back. The man smiled and while the physician and the workers gaped in wonder, he rose to his feet, declaring there was not a trace of pain.

From this day Reese's fame spread rapidly over the country and soon the "bonestetter" left the mill and devoted his entire time to healing. For many years Reese was bitterly opposed by members of the medical profession, but by 1910 his reputation had grown so great the Ohio legislature passed a special act permitting him to practice the profession of "bonestetter" with a medical license.

In 1926, for the first time in his history, the American branch of the World Council selected an American — the bonestetter — to honor with its greatest award, the Distinguished degree for distinguished service to humanity.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Mr. Goldberg: Unless you give more heat, I'm going to have you.

Teacher: To school, but I'm not going to quit until I've kissed every woman in the building, and I've packed them all but one.

Mr. Goldberg: You repeated the teacher's old story.

Mrs. Goldberg: You don't say. I'll bet it's stuck up Mrs. Clark's.

Teacher: I want to impress upon you to day the value of originality; and the teacher. "Now Annie, I want you to repeat these sentences in your own words. See the horse, the horse can run fast."

Annie: "All right, teacher. 'Lamp the sag, the horse's some step'."

Teacher: "Your son in college ordered these photographs from me."

"Ah yes. Well, well, they certainly look very like him. Very like. He be paid for them?"

"No, sir, he has not."

"Hush, don't still more like him."

Customer: I'd like to buy a law mower.

Clerk: Sorry, but we don't have law mowers.

Customer: Well, this is a law of a drug store.

A dentist had a Jew in his chair. "You must have that tooth filled with gold," he said. "You're cracked. 'Alm' you got no patriotism? We're off the gold standard. Fill it with gold.'"

"I'd rather have an order with you, my mother for a 'load of wood'!" asked a strapping but attractive young lady of Charles Keeling.

"There was a gentleman in, who said to deliver a load to a driver who would call and said it was for Mr. Zolt."

"Yes, thank you," said she. "Mr. Gladys Zolt."

"Oh, what?" gulped Charles. "Mr. Gladys Zolt," she repeated.

"Oh, yes, of course," he replied. "So am I."

The teacher said to her class: "Work on this for your next fill-up; as you know full of joy and vigorous means full of joy. Now give an example of such a word."

Alley said his hand and said "Pious."

Teacher: "Now, we all know about Noah's Ark. Do you know of any other ark?"

Tonny: "Yes, mine, the one the wild angels sail."

Jeweller: "If I were you, I would not have (her), to his dearest Helen engaged. If Helen changes her mind, you can't see the ring again."

Herb: "What would you suggest?"

"(Herb), to his first and only love!"

An oldie, said Carl Brown, and as was customary, when his water glassed evidence of use the water refilled it. After the fifth refilling the diner let out a roar.

"Stop," he cried. "I've been trying to get the water glass to the proper level ever since I came to this table. It's gotten under me to take a pill in a third of a glass of water. Now, I feel like an over-loaded water wagon, and I will have the pill to take."

In a few years, most of the wealth of this country will be in the hands of us women."

"Well, if that's the case, men will only have to raise the price of silk stockings to about $25 a pair, and we'll have it all back again."

Dorothy, attending church for the first time, was surprised to see the people about her knee and nodding. Turning to her mother she asked what they were going to do.

"Hush, darling," whispered her mother. "they are going to say 'their prayers.'"

"What with all their clothes on?" said Dorothy.

Upon instantly the radical writer, said at a dinner in Monterey:

"We have a lot of millionaires in America, but they all worked hard, too hard, to accumulate their millions. They broke the laws of health and of life, and they broke a lot of other laws."

"In fact, gentlemen, we might almost say a millionaire can't get along nowadays without two assistants—a doctor to keep him out of bed and a lawyer to keep him out of jail."

PREMIER BENNETT DIRECTS NATIONAL EMERGENCY APPEAL

Under the personal direction of the Prime Minister of Canada, an emergency appeal is to be launched on December 10. The campaign for raising money will be continued for one week. Its purpose is to raise money by private subscription to help give relief in cases where the necessity is urgent, and in those where the usual provisions of government or municipal relief are not applicable or available. Moreover, it is desired to give a more human touch to the relief and necessities of the people of emergency in our national life than is possible through the usual means of distribution of relief.

The effort is supplementary to the work of governments and municipalities throughout the country. It is not intended to remove the burden, nor the responsibility, of obtaining and carrying through relief measures from these bodies. It is, however, expected that through the agency of this fund the occurrence of actual want among the people of this Dominion may be naturally lessened if not, absolutely avoided.

In Alberta the fund has been set at $100,000. One-half of this is expected to be raised in the northern half of the province, and the other half in the southern areas. Edmonton is the center for the north, and Calgary for the south. But the south has been further divided by the allocation of districts to each.

Churches, churches, newspapers, the municipal organizations, benevolent societies of all kinds, women's institutions, Y's and N's and others are cooperating in this campaign.

The Prime Minister, himself, has seen fit to label it a National Emergency Relief Appeal, and the spirit of the country as such is to respond to the urgency implied in this title. It is a cordially expected that the national spirit, which can be so strongly displayed on occasions of this sort, will induce all people to give according to their means to the end that distress and want may be banished from the country.

The purpose of this common fund is to make available resources that can be used to the best advantage, where the need is most urgent throughout the country. For instance, it is known that large areas of livestock and crops in Alberta have been drought ridden and crop in these districts have been practically all. There will be suitable areas in which the expenditure of money

Canadian Pacific is Leader in Team Work And Good Will With Organized Labor Bodies

Nearly 40 years ago, the Canadian Pacific set the pace for the other railways in the American continent, by completing the first known wage agreement for railway employees. For example, in 1891, the C.P. Railway was the first to establish a schedule of regulations and rates for employees.

Montreal and Chicago River. Since that time, the C.P. Railway has been a leader in team work and good will with organized labor bodies. The C.P. Railway has been a leader in team work and good will with organized labor bodies. The C.P. Railway has been a leader in team work and good will with organized labor bodies.

Looking back on the history of the company's labor relations, the event seems almost prophetic in its importance for the future. It is the C.P. Railway's policy to maintain a good working relationship with its employees. The C.P. Railway has been a leader in team work and good will with organized labor bodies.

In the rural districts those who wish to contribute to the fund need not give cash. Exclusively grain donations will be accepted with gratitude. These can be made simply by notifying the agent the elevator where grain is delivered that so much of it is a donation to this appeal and campaign. The agent will then be instructed on this point and will do so that is necessary once they are authorized to allocate grain to the fund.

Churches, churches, newspapers, the municipal organizations, benevolent societies of all kinds, women's institutions, Y's and N's and others are cooperating in this campaign.

It was back in the old days in France. A sweating negro had stopped work for a talk. "Boy, he said to his buddy, 'what you all want when you as discharged from de army?' " "Ah want mah rice mof de all," replied the second. "Y'ridder! Whafte you wants you rice?" "Sow when Ah gits me home Ah plant it in de middle of mah yard, 'ar when it rains Ah sits by de window 'ar says 'Rut you son of a gun, rice!'"

Paul Hymans, the Belgian foreign minister, will be here tonight. Both countries have indicated their desire to talk agreements. Germany has made representations in a similar vein.

Any conversations leading to a mutual improvement of trade will be welcomed here, but it is believed here, that if it is to be successful, it must be based on the fact that reciprocal concessions must be made on both sides.

Under a presidential decree Germany has taken power which enables it, at a moment's notice, to vary its tariff on more than a thousand items covering the whole field of raw materials and agricultural products. This power may be used to give of urgent economic necessity until the relaying meets late next February.
